Speakers

Kimberly Williams is the Founder and CEO of the North Carolina for Military Employment (NC4ME) and Chief Human Resource Officer for the City of Jacksonville. She has more than 30 years of executive level human resources experience and is nationally recognized for her work in workforce development and military talent acquisition. Her honors include twice receiving the Seven Seals Award for meritorious leadership and initiative in support of the Department of Defense and the 2022 Defense Community Champion Award from the Association of Defense Communities.

Lynn Kinney is the Executive Director of the North Carolina for Military Employment (NC4ME). A retired Marine, she brings experience in communications and organizational development, with a focus on aligning strategy, operations, and messaging to strengthen performance and stakeholder engagement. She is committed to building effective teams, improving systems, and helping people and organizations succeed.

Corey Maywald is the Industry Career Coordinator for the North Carolina for Military Employment (NC4ME). A retired Navy Hospital Corpsman First Class, he works with defense manufacturing employers to build hiring partnerships, connecting veterans and military-connected job seekers with career opportunities, and strengthening the submarine industrial workforce. He has experience in healthcare talent acquisition and recruitment, serves as a SHRM Foundation Military Community Ambassador, and mentors transitioning service members through ACP. He holds a Master of Business Administration.
